Gut and Psychology Syndrome Natasha Campbell-McBride, M.D. 2018-11-29 Dr. Natasha Campbell-McBride set up The Cambridge Nutrition Clinic in 1998. As a parent of a child diagnosed with learning disabilities, she is acutely aware of the difficulties facing other parents like her, and she has devoted much of her time to helping these families. She realized that nutrition played a critical role in helping children and adults to overcome their disabilities, and has pioneered the use of probiotics in this field. Her willingness to share her knowledge has resulted in many publications, as well as presenting at numerous seminars and conferences on the subjects of learning disabilities and digestive disorders. Her book Gut and Psychology Syndrome captures her experience and knowledge, incorporating her most recent work. She believes that the link between learning disabilities, the food and drink that we take, and the condition of our digestive system is absolute, and the results of her work have supported her position on this subject. In her clinic, parents discuss all aspects of their child’s condition, confident in the knowledge that they are not only talking to a professional but to a parent who has lived their experience. Her deep understanding of the challenges they face puts her advice in a class of its own.

Life Georges Perec 2012-04-24 In this ingenious book Perec creates an entire microcosm in a Paris apartment block. Serge Valene wants to make an elaborate painting of the building he has made his home for the last sixty years. As he plans his picture, he contemplates the lives of all the people he has ever known there. Chapter by chapter, the narrative moves around the building revealing a marvellously diverse cast of characters in a series of every more unlikely tales, which range from an avenging murderer to an eccentric English millionaire who has devised the ultimate pastime...

The Bookshop on the Corner Jenny Colgan 2016-09-20 Nina Redmond is a librarian with a gift for finding the perfect book for her readers. But can she write her own happy-ever-after? In this valentine to readers, librarians, and book-lovers the world over, the New York Times-bestselling author of Little Beach Street Bakery returns with a funny, moving new novel for fans of Nina George’s The Little Paris Bookshop. Nina is a literary matchmaker. Pairing a reader with that perfect book is her passion... and also her job. Or at least it was. Until yesterday, she was a librarian in the hectic city. But now the job she loved is no more. Determined to make a new life for herself, Nina moves to a sleepy village many miles away. There she buys a van and transforms it into a bookmobile — a mobile bookshop that she drives from neighborhood to neighborhood, changing one life after another with the power of storytelling. From helping her grumpy landlord deliver a lamb, to sharing picnics with a charming train conductor who serenades her with poetry, Nina discovers there’s plenty of adventure, magic, and soul in a place that’s beginning to feel like home... a place where she just might be able to write her own happy ending.

The Language of Jokes Delia Chiaro 2006-12-05 In this highly readable and thought-provoking book, Delia Chiaro explores the pragmatics of word play, using frameworks normally adopted in descriptive linguistics. Using examples from personally recorded conversations, she examines the structure of jokes, quips, riddles and asides. Chiaro explores degrees of conformity to and deviation from established conventions; the `tellability' of jokes, and the interpretative role of the listener; the creative use of puns, word play and discourse. The emphasis in her analysis is on sociocultural contexts for the production and reception of jokes, and she examines the extent to which jokes are both universal in their appeal, and specific to a particular culture.

Broken Glass Alain Mabanckou 2018-10-09 An irreverent, allusive, scatological, tragicomic masterpiece that centers on the patrons of a run-down bar as they try to document the details of their lives in a country that appears to have forgotten the importance of remembering. In Republic of the Congo, in the town of Trois-Cents, in a bar called Credit Gone West, a former schoolteacher known as Broken Glass drinks red wine and records the stories of the bar and its regulars for posterity: Stubborn Snail, the owner, who must battle church people, ex-alcoholics, tribal leaders, and thugs set on destroying him and his business; the Printer, who had his respectable life in France ruined by a white woman, his wife; Robinette, who could outdrink and outpiss any man; and Broken Glass himself, whose own tale involves as much heartbreak, squalor, disappointment, and delusion. But Broken Glass fails spectacularly at staying out of trouble as one denizen after another wants to rewrite history in an attempt at making sure his portrayal will properly reflect their exciting and dynamic lives. Despondent over this apparent triumph of self-delusion over self-awareness, Broken Glass drowns his sorrows and riffs on the great books of Africa and the West. Brimming with life, death, and literary allusions, Broken Glass is Mabanckou’s finest novel–a mocking satire of the dangers of artistic integrity.

Congo David Van Reybrouck 2015-02-17 From the beginnings of the slave trade through colonization, the struggle for independence, Mobutu's brutal three decades of rule, and the civil war that has raged from 1996 to the present day, Congo: The Epic History of a People traces the history of one of the most devastated nations in the world. Esteemed scholar David Van Reybrouck balances hundreds of interviews with a diverse range of Congolese with meticulous historical research to construct a multidimensional portrait of a nation and its people. Epic in scope yet eminently readable, both penetrating and deeply moving, Congo—a finalist for the Cundill Prize—takes a deeply humane approach to political history, focusing squarely on the Congolese perspective, and returns a nation’s history to its people.

La petite pâtisserie de Lili Marie-Claude Martel 2020-09-30T00:00:00-04:00 « Je regarde la pâte dorée perforée de décorations d’où s’échappe la fragrance. Je me penche au-dessus et je ferme les yeux. Je sens les pommes parfumées à la noix de muscade comme si je pouvais les goûter... » Lorsque le café que Lili fréquente tous les matins met la clé sous la porte, la jolie célibataire y décèle l’occasion rêvée de se lancer en affaires : elle ouvrira sa propre pâtisserie. Son projet ne se réalisera cependant pas d’un simple coup de spatule. Entre la recherche de financement, les études de marché, la rénovation du local et la mise sur pied d’un site Internet, les tâches s’empileront avant qu’elle puisse décorer son premier cupcake. Mais de fil en aiguille, son entreprise prend forme et, bientôt, on célèbre la grande ouverture de La petite pâtisserie de Lili. Rapidement, la jeune femme doit composer avec une clientèle de plus en plus nombreuse. Ses amies s’inquiètent de la voir s’épuiser et renoncer à tout espoir de relation amoureuse. Ses priorités changent néanmoins le jour où Samuel franchit le seuil de la boutique et devient un habitué de l’endroit. Visite-t-il le commerce pour ses délices à la crème ou pour celle qui les cuisine ? Lili se laissera-t-elle tenter par de nouvelles expériences extraculinaires ? Quand elle n’imagine pas des histoires, Marie-Claude Martel abuse du chocolat et participe à des courses pour l’éliminer. Après le désopilant Comment se débarrasser du marié ?, elle nous offre une confection romantique et réconfortante qui se déguste sans culpabilité.

Red Mandarin Dress Qiu Xiaolong 2009-02-03 Taking heat from officials because of his probe into a sensitive corruption case, Chief Inspector Chen Cao of the Shanghai Police Department finds himself caught up in what could be the most dangerous case of his career when the bodies of two young women dressed in identical red mandarin dresses turn up, igniting fears of the city’s first sexual serial killer. City of Villains Book 1 (Volume 1) Estelle Laure 2021-01-26 Disney’s Villains meet Gotham in this gritty fairy tale-inspired crime series. Mary Elizabeth Heart is a high school senior by day, but by night she’s an intern at the Monarch City police department. She watches with envy from behind a desk as detectives come and go, trying to contain the city’s growing crime rate. For years, tension has simmered between the city’s wealthy elite, and their plans to quietly the decaying neighborhood called the Scar - once upon a time the epicenter of all things magic. When the daughter of one of the city’s most powerful businessmen goes missing, Mary Elizabeth is thrilled when the Chief actually puts her on the case. But what begins as one missing person’s report soon multiplies, leading her down the rabbit hole of a city in turmoil. There she finds a girl with horns, a boyfriend with secrets, and what seems to be a sea monster lurking in a poison lake. As the mystery circles closer to home, Mary finds herself caught in the fight between those who once had magic, and those who will do anything to bring it back. This dark and edgy YA series explores the reimagined origins of Maleficent, Ursula, Captain Hook, and other infamous Disney Villains like you’ve never seen before.

Merveilles Christine Ferber 2004 Qu'elle explore le pays des merveilles ou qu'elle découvre le monde à l'envers qui se cache derrière le miroir, Alice est un personnage familier des lecteurs du monde entier. Son univers onirique, qui mêle rêves enfantins et angoisses métaphysiques, est prétexte aux aventures les plus rocambolesques. Dans ce joyeux capharnaüm, la nourriture occupe une place de choix. Boissons de toutes les couleurs, gâteaux en tous genres, champignons mystérieux, goûters endiablés... sont autant d'instruments de narration, prétextes à des rebondissements inattendus. S'appuyant sur cette richesse culinaire, ce livre rassemble 80 recettes originales inspirées des différents épisodes des deux romans de Lewis Carroll. Entrées, desserts, plats de résistance ou boissons, ces recettes simplement expliquées et faciles à réaliser ont pour ingrédients communs quelques grains de folies et une bonne dose de fantaisie. Elles sont mises en scènes dans des décors directement inspirés de l'univers fantasmagorique d'Alice.

Manresa David Kinch 2013-10-22 The long-awaited cookbook by one of the San Francisco Bay Area’s star chefs, David Kinch, who has revolutionized restaurant culture with his take on the farm-to-table ethic and focus on the terroir of the Northern California coast. Since opening Manresa in Los Gatos in 2002, award-winning Chef David Kinch has done more to create a sense of place through his food—specifically where the Santa Cruz Mountains meet the sea—than any other chef on the West Coast. Manresa’s thought-provoking dishes and unconventional pairings draw on techniques both traditional and modern that combine with the heart of the Manresa experience: fruits and vegetables. Through a pioneering collaboration between farm and restaurant, nearby Love Apple Farms supplies nearly all of the restaurant’s exquisite produce year round. Kinch’s interpretation of these ingredients, drawing on his 30 years in restaurants as well as his far-flung and well-fed travels, are at the heart of the Manresa experience. In Manresa, Chef Kinch details his thoughts on building a dish: the creativity, experimentation and emotion that go into developing each plate and daily menu—and how a tasting menu ultimately tells a deeper story. A literary snapshot of the restaurant, from Chef Kinch’s inspirations to his techniques, Manresa is an ode to the mountains, fields, and sea; it shares the philosophies and passions of a brilliant chef whose restaurant draws its inspiration globally, while always keeping a profound connection to the people, producers, and bounty of the land that surrounds it.

The Tea-planter’s Daughter Sara Banerji 1988 Oday is Julia Clockhouse’s twenty-fifth birthday. Her long-suffering Hindu servants are frantically trying to organise a party for her, but it’s hard to do so amid the havoc wreaked by her wild spirit. They think she is possessed. Daughters of colonial tea-planters shouldn’t have souls that escape their bodies, move objects with their minds, hear tongueless yogis speak. Julia Clockhouse does. As the day passes and the chaos mounts in the kitchen, Julia listens desperately for the return of her husband. Ben may have married her on the orders of her domineering father, but he had come to love her; together they had found the happiness they missed in childhood. But by the time the party guests are tumbling in from the rising fury of the monsoon Ben has still not come.

Archer’s Voice Mia Sheridan 2016-11-01 Fall in love with this emotional New York Times bestselling romance between two tortured souls who find their chance at happiness in the most unexpected way. I wanted to lose myself in the small town of Pelion, Maine. To forget everything I had left behind. The sound of rain. The blood. The coldness of a gun against my skin. For six months, each breath has been a reminder that I survived - and my dad didn’t. I’m almost safe again. But the moment I meet Archer Hale, my entire world tilts on its axis . . . and never rights itself again. Until I trespass into his strange, silent, and isolated world, Archer communicates with no one. Yet in his whiskey-colored eyes, something intangible happens between us. There’s so much more to him than just his beauty, his presence, or the ways his hands communicate with me. On me. But this town is mired in secrets and betrayals, and Archer is the explosive center of it all. So much passion. And so much hurt. But it’s only in Archer’s silence that we might just find what we need to heal . . . and live. Includes an exclusive extended epilogue from Archer’s POV! Named one of the "Top Romance Novels of All Time" by Goodreads! A New York Times, USA Today, and Wall Street Journal bestseller!

The Poet X Elizabeth Acevedo 2018-03-06 Winner of the National Book Award for Young People’s Literature, the Michael L. Printz Award, and the Pura Belpré Award! Fans of Jacqueline Woodson, Meg Medina, and Jason Reynolds will fall hard for this astonishing New York Times-bestselling novel-in-verse by an award-winning slam poet, about an Afro-Latina heroine who tells her story with blazing words and powerful truth. Xiomara Batista feels unheard and unable to hide in her Harlem neighborhood. Ever since her body grew into curves, she has learned to let her fists and her fierceness do the talking. But Xiomara has plenty she wants to say, and she pours all her frustration and passion onto the pages of a leather notebook, reciting the words to herself like prayers—especially after she catches feelings for a boy in her bio class named Aman, who her family can never know about. With Mami’s determination to force her daughter to obey the laws of the church, Xiomara understands that her thoughts are best kept to herself. So when she is invited to join her school’s slam poetry club, she doesn’t know how she could ever attend without her mami finding out. But she still can’t stop thinking about performing her poems. Because in the face of a world that may not want to hear her, Xiomara refuses to be silent. “Crackles with energy and snaps with authenticity and voice.” —Justina Ireland, author of Dread Nation “An incredibly potent debut.” —Jason Reynolds, author of the National Book Award Finalist Ghost “Acevedo has amplified the voices of girls en el barrio who are equal parts goddess, saint, warrior, and hero.” —Ibi Zoboi, author of American Street This young adult novel, a selection of the Schomburg Center’s Black Liberation Reading List, is an excellent choice for accelerated tween readers in grades 6 to 8. Plus don’t miss Elizabeth Acevedo’s With the Fire on High and Clap When You Land!

Cuisinier Gascon Pascal Aussignac 2009-10-23 On moving to Britain in the late 1990’s Pascal opened up his award winning restaurant Club Gascon in London’s Smithfield Market. Rapidly acquiring a Michelin star, Club Gascon fast became the place to go to experience some of the best French food in the country - the food of his native South West of France, the very heart of the country’s cuisine. Over 100 traditional recipes, some with modern twists and inflections, sit within a sumptuously designed and beautifully photographed book. Unashamedly sensuous food photography is accompanied by evocative images of Gascony, it’s food and people, from fellow Frenchman Jean Cazals. Cuisinier Gascon is a food lover’s delight and a cook’s heaven - a worthy testament to the talents of both Pascal Aussignac and his native land of Gascony. 2009 World Gourmand Award: ‘Best French Cookbook in UK’ 2010 World Gourmand Award: ‘Second Best French Cookbook in the World’ Prix La Mazille 2010 First Prize in Perigueux (France) at The International Book Fair

Reflexive Translation Studies Silvia Kadiu 2019-04-08 In the past decades, translation studies have increasingly focused on the ethical dimension of translational activity, with an emphasis on reflexivity to assert the role of the researcher in highlighting issues of visibility, creativity and ethics. In Reflexive Translation Studies, Silvia Kadiu investigates the viability of theories that seek to empower translation by making visible its transformative dimension; for example, by championing the visibility of the translating subject, the translator’s right to creativity, the supremacy of human translation or an autonomous study of translation. Inspired by Derrida’s deconstructive thinking, Kadiu presents practical ways of challenging theories that argue reflexivity is the only way of developing an ethical translation. She questions the capacity of reflexivity to counteract the power relations at play in translation (between minor and dominant languages, for example) and problematises affirmative claims about (self-)knowledge by using translation itself as a process of critical reflection. In exploring the interaction between form and content, Reflexive Translation Studies promotes the need for an experimental, multi-sensory and intuitive practice, which invites students, scholars and practitioners alike to engage with theory productively and creatively through translation.

Merveilles Christine Ferber 2005-10-05 Pour André Breton, Lewis Carroll fut le " premier maître d'école buissonnière ". Le surréalisme a inspiré à Philippe Model l'esprit et la forme de cet ouvrage, qu'il a voulu irrévérencieux, et composé avec la liberté poétique des rêves. Il a donc " détourné " Tennyel, recherché ou fabriqué les décors les plus évocateurs, fait danser les textes de Carroll, et dessiné d'un trait léger, pour interpréter avec une extraordinaire fidélité l'œuvre originale. L'intégralité de Merveilles a été réalisée dans l'atelier du grand photographe Bernhard Winkelmann qui y a prêté toute la sensibilité de son regard et la virtuosité de sa technique. La célèbre pâtissière - confiseur - chocolatière Christine Ferber a su inventer pour chaque moment de cette aventure de rêve, des recettes créées et salées que vous trouverez le même plaisir à réaliser qu'à savourer.

Daily Life in Palestine at the Time of Christ Henri Daniel-Rops 2002 The celebrated French Academician, Henri Daniel-Rops, recreates the world that gave birth to Christianity. The people who lived in Palestine at the time of Christ become flesh and blood with occupations, families and homes. You will sympathize with them, like them or dislike them. Even the land with its particular kinds of birds singing and its particular flowers and crops growing in its soil are reconstructed to give a full understanding of these people and their turbulent times. Daniel-Rops also brings to light the political, economic, scientific and cultural currents of the period. The events that preceded and surrounded the coming of Christ and the spread of Christianity are illuminated with immense scholarship and moving description, giving a clear picture of Christ among his people and in his time.
